PROPOSAL REJECTED

Germany Refuses to Accept French Moroccan Reform Program.

RUPTURE IS FEARED

UNYIELDING ATTITUDE OF POWERS MOST CONCERNED REGARDED AS THREATENING WORLD'S PEACE.

ALGECIRAS, Feb 19.—The [illegible] delegates to the Moroccan conference received tonight Germany's reply to the proposition regarding the policing of Morocco. The reply is a rejection of the French proposition that the officers of the proposed police [illegible] shall be French and Spanish. Germany declares that the French proposal is contrary to the principle of internationalization and equality of all the powers in Morocco.

The question of establishing a bank which has been under discussion between Count Tattenbach and M. Regnault has not been settled and no agreement relative to the principal features of the proposal has been reached nor does an agreement at present appear to be likely.

Delegates of the principal powers are kept fully acquainted with the progress of the pourparleurs and [illegible] endeavor to bring about a settlement, but tangible results have not been attained.

The effect of the German reply on the subject of policing Morocco has had a bad effect on the neutral delegates who were disposed to regard the French proposal as a moderate one and who expected some acknowledgment in that regard from Germany. They do not however consider the case as desperate as it has been hitherto. Their guarded interference will now be transformed into a strong pressure upon Germany whose unyielding attitude is regarded as possibly threatening the world's peace.

DISRUPTION IS AT HAND

CRISIS IN RUSSIAN CABINET COMES SOONER THAN WAS EXPECTED.

MORE RESIGNATIONS EXPECTED IN A FEW DAYS—INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS LOOKED FOR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb 19.—The disruption of the Russian cabinet, which was predicted last Friday by the Associated Press, is coming to pass more speedily than was expected. Though both Premier Witte and Minister of Interior Durnovo remain, Minister of Communication Nemechaieff and Comptroller of the Empire Filossofoff, it is said, will follow Min. Kutler and Timiriazeff in a few days. Finance Minister Shipoff is said also to be slated for retirement, though this is not certain. M. Nemechaieff, who has just returned from "swinging around the circle" inspecting railroads, is said to have declared that it was impossible to maintain an efficient service while the police are imprisoning the best and most intelligent of the railroad operators and that he quits his post in disgust.

The vacancies in the cabinet probably will be filled temporarily until the meeting of the national assembly and in all probability by the promotion of vice ministers.

Interesting revelations are promised this week.

TWO CARLOADS OF PASSENGERS QUARANTINED

RENO, Nev., Feb 19.—Two carloads of passengers on the Southern Pacific sidetrack are in strict quarantine because of a case of smallpox discovered at Winnemucca, Nev., shortly before noon today. The passengers are tourists from the east bound for California.

ROCKSLIDE COVERS 500 FEET OF TRACK

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb 19.—A rockslide on the Great Northern railroad in Kalee, Idaho, in Kootenai canon has buried nearly 500 feet of track to a depth of 30 feet. A large force of men is clearing the slide, which was found Sunday afternoon in time to prevent any wrecks. The [illegible] of all trains are being transferred. It will require several days to clear the tracks.

BE TRUE MINE SHAFT HOUSE GUTTED BY FIRE

BUENA VISTA, Colo., Feb 19.—The shaft house at the Be True mine located five miles south of Buena Vista and owned by the Stratton-Massachusetts Gold Mining company in the [illegible] creek district was destroyed by fire last night causing a loss of about $[illegible]. Owing to the isolation of the mine and the lack of telephone communication details of the fire are lacking. ROOSEVELT IS SATISFIED

IS PLEASED WITH PROPOSED CHANGE IN COURT REVIEW FEATURE OF RATE BILL.

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—Following a conference between Attorney General Moody and Speaker Cannon and Senators Clapp and Dolliver the attorney general and Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Prouty of the Interstate Commerce commission held a conference with President Roosevelt at which railroad rate legislation was discussed. The effort was to so shape the provisions of the Hepburn bill regarding appeal to the courts as to make it certain that the bill is constitutional and yet, so far as there is power by law to do so, to limit the appeal to what is regarded as constitutionally necessary.

The president is understood to believe that Messrs. Moody, Knapp and Prouty have worked out a satisfactory provision that is better than that in the Hepburn bill or in the original Interstate Commerce commission's bill, the only two bills hitherto laid before congress with which the president has on that point felt at all satisfied.

CONGRESS ON DIVORCE MEETS

FORTY-TWO STATES AND THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA ARE REPRESENTED.

GOVERNOR PENNYPACKER OF PENNSYLVANIA EXPRESSES DESIRE FOR MORE UNIFORM LAWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania was chosen president of the congress on uniform divorce laws, which convened here today. Governor Pennypacker outlined the objects of the congress.

Governor Pennypacker said the object of the meeting was "the securing as nearly as possible uniform statutes upon the matter of divorce throughout the nation."

The initiative had been taken in Pennsylvania, he said, when the governor had been authorized by the legislature to communicate with the governors of the several states requesting them to co-operate in assembling of a congress to discuss the subject of divorce. Forty-two states and the District of Columbia, he said, had sent delegates.

Continuing, Governor Pennypacker said:

Of the three states which are unrepresented one of them, South Carolina, does not permit divorcement for any cause, and therefore only two of the forty-five states have failed to indicate an appreciation of the significance of the movement upon which you have embarked. The dissolution of the marriage tie has become so common as to be regarded as an ordinary event, awakening no comment and meeting with little or no disapproval. There are more divorces granted annually in the United States of America than in any other country upon earth except Japan.

A writer who has investigated the subject declares that at the time of the census in 1900 there were 198,814 divorced persons living in the United States, that there were nearly seventy thousand divorces granted in 1902, and that the proportion of divorces to marriages is increasing with alarming [illegible]

GAS AND ELECTRIC METERS TO BE INSPECTED BY CITY

City Attorney Instructed to Prepare an Ordinance Providing for an Inspector—Issue of $90,000 Bonds for Water Extensions. Proposed New Sidewalk Ordinance Favored.

The most important business transacted by the city council last night was the directing of City Attorney W. C. Robinson to prepare an ordinance for the regular inspection of gas and electric meters throughout the city, the indorsement by a vote of 5 to 3 of the proposed new sidewalk ordinance which is to come up for public consideration at the next regular meeting and the introduction of an ordinance for the issuance of $90,000 water bonds for the completion of city reservoirs and extensions of the city water system.

By a vote of six to two the application of the F. H. Martin Drug company for a liquor license was refused, Mayor Hall explaining that Otto Fehringer, former owner of the drug store, had not settled the judgments against him in the courts.

Dr. P. O. Hanford, health commissioner, in a communication to the city council last night recommended the purchase of a smoke testing machine for the use of the plumbing inspector in testing plumbing. On motion of Alderman Verner the recommendation was adopted and the purchasing agent directed to purchase a Beckman No. 2 machine.

The profile and grade of the streets in Hastings Seventh addition, as prepared by the city engineer, were presented and adopted.

New City Books.

In reference to the matter of installing a new system of bookkeeping in the various city offices the finance committee was instructed to investigate and report a system to be installed with data as to cost.

A resolution instructing the mayor and clerk to make a change in section 12 of an agreement between the town of Manitou and the city of Colorado Springs whereby the pipe shall be laid 4 1-2 feet below the surface of the roadway, instead of 5 feet as now provided, was presented and adopted.

Relative to the laying of the 24-inch main through Manitou, contractors Doyle and Schwartz presented a communication calling attention to the fact that the cost of pig lead had advanced $1.50 per hundred pounds and requested the city to assume the difference estimated at $793.80. When the contractors were stopped on the work March 1, 1904, lead cost $4.05 per 100 pounds and it is now quoted at $5.55. On motion of Alderman Seldomridge the council voted it the sense of the council that the city assume the difference in cost of pig lead actually used in the work.

The street commissioner was directed to gravel West Vermijo street. The bids for painting the viaducts and Huerfano street bridge were referred back to the street committee to confer with the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company.

Salary Raised.

On motion of Alderman Albin, seconded by Alderman Hill, the council voted to raise the salary of Foreman T. J. Fair of the street department from $75 to $100 per month.

By unanimous vote the street commissioner was directed to plank the Bear creek bridge and to place two culverts on West Kiowa street near the Loretto academy.

It was decided that when the council adjourn it be to meet next Friday evening.

On motion of Alderman Verner the city attorney was directed to prepare an ordinance for the inspection of meters, gas and electric.

An ordinance adopting the contract with the town of Manitou for right of way for the 24-inch water main was introduced by Alderman Seldomridge, read and ordered published.

Sidewalk Ordinance.

The proposed sidewalk ordinance was then taken up and read. A committee composed of Messrs. Bennett, Ferug and Hoover was present from the real estate exchange and discussed the ordinance with the council. On motion of Alderman Tucker the council voted

CHICAGO PACKERS SPRING SURPRISE

OTHER EVIDENCE THAN THAT SECURED BY GARFIELD IS USED AGAINST THEM.

CHICAGO, Feb 19.—Attorneys for the packers sprung something of a surprise today when they summoned to the witness stand Special Agent Durand who conducted the investigation of the packing industry in Chicago and other cities. He was on the stand when court adjourned for the day. The questions put to him by the attorneys for the packers covered the manner in which the packers had surrendered their books for his inspection and the nature of the information secured. An effort was made to show by the witness that information other than that published in the report of Commissioner Garfield had been given by the commissioner or his subordinates to the department of justice. Mr. Durand admitted that some papers and tables that were not comprehended in the report of the commission had been inspected by Assistant Attorney General Fagin. He was not able to tell however whether the information which Fagin had seen was taken from the packers.

Mr. Durand will resume the stand in the [illegible]

THREE BILLS ARE PASSED

HOUSE TRANSACTS IMPORTANT BUSINESS—ARMY BILL TO COME UP TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Three bills were passed under suspension of the rules requiring a two-thirds vote in the house today. The bill was directed particularly at Arizona and New Mexico, where it was stated gambling was licensed. The second provides additional work for the census bureau by requiring statistics to be taken on insurance, fisheries, electrical industries, savings banks and crimes. The third appropriates $50,000 for the purchase of 300 acres of coal lands on the island of Bataan, P. I. On the latter bill a debate of two hours was had. The others were debated 40 minutes each. The army bill will be taken up today.

PURE FOOD BILL IS UP

SMOOT OCCUPIES MOST OF DAY IN SENATE—VOTE TO BE TAKEN WEDNESDAY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—In presenting petitions against Senator Reed Smoot signed by thousands of women of California and Colorado, Messrs. Perkins and Patterson took occasion today to define their positions on the protests against the Utah senator. The former said that religious views should not be considered in passing upon the qualifications of a senator and that his honesty and the attributes that command confidence and respect should be above all else.

Mr. Patterson thought there were great constitutional questions to be considered and said these would govern his vote. The petitioners had requested these senators to make some remarks in presenting the prayers.

Discussion of the pure food bill occupied practically all of the day. The speakers were Mr. Hepburn, who has charge of bills, Senator Foraker, Mr. Money and Mr. McCumber. An order was made to devote time tomorrow and Wednesday to the consideration of amendments under the ten-minute rule and begin voting at 5 o'clock Wednesday.

IN FAVOR OF LOCK CANAL

REPORTS OF SPECIAL INVESTIGATING BODIES AND OF SECRETARY TAFT ARE ALSO FORWARDED.

WASHINGTON, Feb 19.—President Roosevelt today transmitted to congress the report of the board of consulting engineers on the Panama canal together with the letter of Secretary Taft, the report of the Isthmian canal commission and a letter by Chief Engineer Stevens. The letter of the president is as follows:

To the senate and house of representatives:

I submit herewith the letter of the secretary of war transmitting the report of the board of consulting engineers on the Panama canal and the report of the Isthmian Canal commission thereon, together with a letter written to the chairman of the Isthmian Canal commission by Chief Engineer Stevens. Both the board of consulting engineers and the canal commission concur in their report. The majority of the board of consulting engineers, eight in number, including the five foreign engineers, favor a sea level canal, and one member of the canal committee, Admiral Endicott, takes the same view. Five of the eight American members of the board of consulting engineers and five members of the Isthmian Canal commission favor the lock canal, as does Chief Engineer Stevens. The secretary of war recommends a lock canal pursuant to the recommendation of the minority of the board of consulting engineers and of the majority of the canal commission. After careful study of the papers submitted and full consideration of the whole subject, I concur in this recommendation.

It will be noticed that the American engineers on the consulting board [illegible]

BOWEN ORDERED FROM ROSEMONT

CHAIRMAN OF SCHOOL BOARD AT THAT PLACE SAYS HE WAS COMMANDED TO LEAVE.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb 19.—A crowd of men residing at Rosemont, on the Short Line about 20 miles from here, last night waited on W. H. Bowen, chairman of the local school board and, according to the statement of Bowen, ordered him to leave Rosemont and remain away. Bowen also said that the crowd threatened him and he asked the sheriff for protection. Undersheriff Parsons instructed Bowen that under the circumstances he would be justified in protecting himself, telling him also that the sheriff's office would send a deputy to Rosemont to give him protection. This morning Deputy Dittemore went to Rosemont to investigate the trouble. Bowen is still there. It appears that he disagreed with the school teacher, who was demanding payment of wages. Bowen says that the men who ordered him to get out also made him sign a warrant for the teacher's salary. Bowen says that tomorrow he will swear out a warrant for the arrest of the principals, whom he [illegible]

MINERS KILLED

Thirteen Men Lose Lives in Explosion in Maitland Mine.

LIST MAY BE LARGE

WORST ACCIDENT IN HISTORY OF COAL MINING IN COLORADO—FULL EXTENT OF DISASTER UNKNOWN

PUEBLO, Feb 19.—A special to the Chieftain from Walsenburg says:

By far the worst accident in the history of coal mining in this part of the country occurred at the Maitland mine this evening and as a result thirteen men lost their lives and it is possible that the list will reach fifteen or even sixteen when all the bodies have been recovered. The following is the list of dead so far as known:

ARCHIE MILLER, fire boss of Maitland mine.
BATTISTA EOBERA.
BILLY MORAN, of Maitland.
JAMES W. TITTERS, Kansas.
CORONA COSTA, Sopris, Colo.
NICK YOSKIBETZ.
JOE COSTA, Maitland.

Shortly after 8 o'clock there was an explosion in that part of the Maitland known as Sunshine which caused the earth to tremble for miles around. Soon after one of the men came running out and reported that the mine was on fire. The explosion caused a fall of rock from the roof and until this is cleared away it will not be known positively just how many are yet in the mine. It is certain, however, that any found there will be past help. The explosion was caused by gas and the deaths were caused by the gas and the after damp. It is supposed that the explosion occurred on account of open lamps in use, as most of the men in this part of the mine had that kind. General Superintendent W. J. Murray arrived this evening and has taken charge himself. The Maitland mine is the property of the Victor Fuel company.

HUNGARIAN PARLIAMENT IS DISSOLVED

FORCE OF ARMS IS USED BUT NO OPEN RESISTANCE IS MADE.

[illegible] OF COALITION PARTY DECLARE ACTION UNCONSTITUTIONAL AND VIGOROUSLY [illegible].

BUDAPEST, Feb. 19.—The Hungarian parliament was dissolved this morning with the use of force. The floor and corridors of the building were cleared by the police.

There was no resistance and no disorder. The members of the coalition party declare that the dissolution was unconstitutional and illegal, and that they will hold a meeting Wednesday night in the parliament building, unless prevented by troops, in which case the meeting will be held elsewhere.

The session opened at 10 o'clock sharp. The vice president read letters from General Nyiri, the royal commissioner, and Herr Justh, president of the lower house, and declared that the royal rescript dissolving parliament, forwarded by General Nyiri, was unconstitutional and illegal, and energetically protested against it. The vice president proposed that the house ignore the rescript and return it to the emperor-king. The house unanimously accepted the proposal with prolonged cheers. Thereafter the minutes of the meeting were adopted, the deputies were notified to re-assemble on Wednesday, and then the house adjourned.

The royal rescript dissolving parliament was left lying unopened on the president's desk, and the members left the house singing the Kossuth hymn. The floor was almost cleared when a captain of the Hungarian militia, at the head of five soldiers with fixed bayonets, and a large number of policemen who had previously entered by a side door, entered the house. The captain and soldiers mounted the president's tribune and the policemen occupied the floor. The captain then opened and read the rescript amid constant interruptions from the galleries, and some of the deputies who returned to the floor, and all present united in singing the Kossuth hymn, with the result that not a word of the rescript could be heard. The police escorted several of the noisy members from the floor, and then slowly cleared the galleries and corridors. A large crowd of cheering deputies escorted Francis Kossuth, Count Albert Apponyi, and other leaders, from the house, which was surrounded by five squadrons of cavalry, a regiment of infantry, a battalion of militia, and a thousand policemen.

The deputies, already embittered, were still further exasperated when, on arriving, they found the building thus cordoned. This outward evidence of an intention to coerce the deputies settled the waverers, and when the time came to vote there was no divergence of opinion.

Owing to the absence by illness of President Justh, Vice President Rakovsky opened the session. He demanded the withdrawal of the police force from the precincts of the house, but the chief of police declined to do so, and the excited deputies vehemently protested against this indignity and urged the house to disperse without further business.

Vice President Rakovsky then communicated a letter from General Nyiri announcing the latter's appointment as royal commissioner with unlimited powers to carry out the dissolution of the parliament in the event of the deputies refusing to separate. After reading the decree, Herr Rakovsky moved that the royal letter be returned unopened to General Nyiri as the latter was then qualified to enter into official communication with the house. The vice president pointed out that conferring unlimited powers on the commissioner was unconstitutional, as the executive power could only be exercised by the responsible ministers. Moreover, General Nyiri was subject to military discipline, and therefore not in a position to exercise constitutional functions. The motion was passed unanimously.

Speaking to the Associated Press today, Count Apponyi, who, with Francis Kossuth, leads the coalition party, expressed himself as highly gratified with the events of this morning. He said that he considered that the coalition had gained a signal victory over the crown as the result of the crown's method of attempting to dissolve the parliament, which he characterized as illegal. Count Apponyi declared that the deputies would proceed to the house on Wednesday, but if prevented from entering they would retrace their steps without disorder.

Speaking of Hungary's insistence on the use of the Magyar language for the word of command in the army, Count Apponyi explained that this was not simply a matter of national principle and pride.

"Hungary," he said, "is a crippled nation without her own army; she is like a man deprived of one limb. Obligatory military service of all Hungarian youths for three years in an Austrian army under the Austrian flag tends strongly to denationalize them and counteract at their most impressionable age all instruction and training along the lines of national institutions and patriotism received up to the time they entered the army. Military service in an Austrian army tends strongly to Pan-Austrianism and to destroy the feelings of nationalism in our young men."

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

LONDON, Feb. 19.—King Edward opened the second parliament of his reign this afternoon, with the customary ceremonials. The weather was cloudy but rain held off and all the points of vantage along the troop-lined route followed by the royal progress were well occupied by cheering crowds.

For the first time since early in the reign of the late Queen Victoria, only a single chair occupied the dais, in consequence of the absence from England of Queen Alexandra. The king, arrayed in robes of crimson silk and velvet edged with gold lace and surmounted by a heavy cape of ermine, having seated himself on the throne, commanded the presence of the commons to hear his speech. The speech contained no surprises. The usual reference to the continuance of friendly relations with foreign powers was followed by a paragraph rejoicing over the fact that the Russo-Japanese war has "been brought to an end by the satisfactory conclusion of the negotiations commenced in August and due to the initiative of the president of the United States, which had resulted in an honorable peace."

Referring to the Moroccan conference, the king remarked: "It is earnestly to be hoped that the result of these negotiations may be conducive to the maintenance of peace among all nations."

Colorless mention was made of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, the dissolution of the union of Norway and Sweden and the condition of Macedonia, which has "continued to give cause for anxiety."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS IN OPEN REVOLT

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Feb. 19.—The boy students at the Cripple Creek High school are in open revolt against the school and legal authorities as well as their parents and are refusing to attend their classes. Ninety-five per cent of the male pupils are involved in the disaffection and every one of them declares on his oath that he will not return to school until Levi Parfet, one of their number, who is serving a ten-day sentence in the county jail for stealing two class banners, has been released, and other concessions are made by the high school faculty.

The school authorities are standing firm in their refusal to make a single concession to the striking students and the hint has been given out that if it is possible to do so the juvenile law will be invoked to bring the obstreperous youths to a full realization of their position. The fathers of the revolters, as a rule, are siding with the school authorities, but the mothers are extremely anxious and fear that unless a quick settlement is reached their boys may be arrested and sentenced for delinquency.

And if to further emphasize their independence, the striking pupils at 10:30 o'clock this morning met on the flat west of town and in a single file marched to the county jail, where they gave three cheers and a tiger in honor of young Parfet, who has suddenly become a hero in their eyes because of his conviction and incarceration.

The students then marched down Bennett avenue cheering and giving their class yells.

A committee of students is now preparing resolutions which will be presented to Judge Thomas of the juvenile court and also to the board of education, in which a demand will be made that Parfet be liberated; that the trouble is purely a class affair and is not a criminal one, and, further, that several of the principals be given specific instructions as to their duties. Nearly all of the teachers and the principals will be condemned by the boys in their resolution.

THE LONGWORTHS ON THEIR WAY TO CUBA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth started on a honeymoon trip from Alexandria, Va., this morning at 11:18 o'clock over the Southern railway. They will go to Tampa and from there take a boat for Havana which point they expect to reach Thursday morning.

Work That Tells

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Colorado Springs.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Colorado Springs. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Colorado Springs sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

Mrs. E. J. Cooper, of 133 Florissant street, Cripple Creek, whose husband is a prospector for a Boston syndicate, says: "In the months of June, 1899, I gave for publication a testimonial recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. We had given them to our little boy when three or four years. We tried everything in our power to get something to stop the trouble, but nothing did him any good until we procured Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy cured him completely. He has since then had a severe attack of scarlet fever, and we were afraid of a return of the old complaint, but there was no sign of one. This is why I re-endorse my original statement. I am well satisfied that the cure is permanent."

Plenty more proof like this from Colorado Springs people. Call at D. W. Butcher Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

to one majority favor the lock canal, whereas the foreign engineers are a unit against it. I think this is partly to be explained by the fact that the great traffic canal of the old world is the Suez canal, a sea level canal, whereas the great traffic canal of the new world is the Sault Ste Marie canal, a lock canal. Although the latter, the Soo, is closed to navigation during the winter months, it carries annually three times the traffic of the Suez canal. In my judgment the very able argument of the majority of the board of consulting engineers is vitiated by their failure to pay proper heed to the lessons taught by the construction and operation of the Soo canal. It must be borne in mind, as the commission points out, that there is no question of building what has been picturesquely termed 'the straits of Panama,' that is, a waterway through which the largest vessels could go with safety at uninterrupted high speed. Both the sea level canal and the proposed lock canal would be too narrow or shallow to be called with any truthfulness a strait or to have any of the properties of a wide, deep water strip. Both of them would be canals, pure and simple. Each type has certain disadvantages and certain advantages. But in my judgment, the disadvantages are fewer and the advantages very much greater in the case of a lock canal substantially as proposed in the papers forwarded herewith; and I call especial attention to the fact that the chief engineer who will be mainly responsible for the success of this mighty engineering feat, and who has therefore a peculiar personal interest in judging aright, is emphatically and earnestly in favor of the lock canal project and against the sea level project.

Secretary Taft transmitted the committee's report and the accompanying documents to the president, summarizing closely the conclusions of the majority and minority which respectively favored a sea level and a lock canal. He called attention to the fact that the act of congress in effect fixes the minimum dimension of the locks and the width and depth of the canal prism by the requirement that the canal shall accommodate the largest vessels afloat or such as may be reasonably anticipated. As two ships now building which are 600 feet long, 88 feet beam and 38 feet draught, can be passed through the locks proposed by the minority, he says it is evident this requirement is met. The secretary says:

"In the high level canal a vessel of the dimensions noted would have, with the exception of the 4.7 miles the width is only 200 feet, ample leeway for safe navigation and good speed, without objectionable currents and without difficulties at the points where changes in course are necessary."

But of the sea level canal project he makes this criticism:

"With the proposed sea level canal, conditions are different. The depth is but two feet greater than the draft of the ship and would not permit her to proceed under her own steam except at great risk; 21 miles of the canal is not sufficiently wide for two such ships to pass; currents caused by the regulation of the charges and by the flow of other streams into the canal and its curves combine to increase the difficulties and dangers of navigation. In short, the sea level canal recommended, is not of sufficient capacity and depth to afford convenitne passage for vessels of the largest tonnage and greatest depth,' and can be so only by materially increasing the depth and width, and at a considerable increase of time and money. If the suggested width of 150 to 200 feet is the greatest width economically permissible for a sea level canal, the cost of the enlargement required must be prohibitive.

"It, therefore, follows that the high level canal more fully meet the requirements of congress.

"The estimated cost is $247,011,000 for the sea level canal and $139,705,200 for the 85-foot level canal, a difference of $107,000,000. The Isthmian Canal commission and the chief engineer regard the estimate for the sea level canal as too low by at least $25,000,000 for seasons stated in their reports.

"The estimated time for completing the sea level canal is stated by the majority of the board as from 12 to 13 years; by the Isthmian Canal commission and the chief engineer from 18 to 20 years. The minority report estimates the time for completing the high sea level canal at 8 1-2 years and this is regarded as conservative by the other competent authorities.

"The cost of operation and maintenance is an important consideration and can be measured solely by annual appropriations; therefore, the advantage of the sea level canal. It is believed, however, that the difference is more than offset by the interest on the additional investment in the cost of a sea level canal."

The secretary says that either type of canal is vulnerable—the high level the more so because of the lift locks which can be easily injured. Protection must be afforded in either case.

"In view of the foregoing," he adds, "I recommend the adoption of the type of canal proposed by the minority of the board of consulting engineers, except so far as relates to the location of the locks at Sosa Hill."

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally; because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

All of the aldermen, excepting Albin and Verner, voted against granting the license.

Bills amounting to $8,744.16 were read and allowed.

Bills from Seldomridge Bros. for oats and feed furnished to the city under the contract recently awarded the firm as the lowest bidder were presented, the total amount being $345.97. On motion of Alderman McCaffery the bills went over without action until Friday evening.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of $90,000 water bonds was introduced by Alderman Seldomridge and read. By unanimous vote the council ordered the ordinance published, and then at 1:30 o'clock this morning, the council adjourned.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—Percy Kyner, 24 years old, an employe of the Portland Gold Mining company, while engaged in oiling machinery this morning attempted to climb over the cable drum while it was in motion. Kyner was removed to Red Cross hospital. This evening it was found necessary to amputate his leg. There is but little chance for his recovery.

The opportunity to make a success comes to every individual at some time in his life but it often appears in a disguised form and is not recognized until after it has flown. Failures in life result as often from poor health as from mismanagement, and yet people ignore this fact and disregard a cold until it has settled on their lungs and pneumonia has resulted or consumption has been contracted. The opportunity has passed and it is too late now to remove the cause. Your chance for success may rest in curing a cold, and there is nothing you can procure which acts so quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is famous for its cures of coughs and colds and can always be depended upon. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia. For sale by all druggists.

PURCHASE OF AERIAL LADDER TRUCK AGAIN PUT OFF BY COUNCIL

Action upon the purchase of an aerial ladder truck for the fire department has again been postponed by the city council and the question will come before the council again at an adjourned meeting of the council to be held next Friday evening.

Four bids were presented to the council last evening. N. L. Francis, representing the American La France Fire Engine company, presented two bids, each being for $4,000, f. o. b., Colorado Springs. One specification called for a 75-foot La France aerial ladder truck operated with oil cylinder and valve, while the other specification calls for a 75-foot American aerial ladder truck operated with a spring.

A bid from Edward F. Dahill, president of the Pneumatic Aerial Appliance company of New Bedford, Mass., offered to furnish a 75-foot pneumatic aerial ladder truck operated by an air compressor and furnished with Davoll water tower attachment, for the sum of $4,500, f. o. b., New Bedford, Mass.

Julius Pearse, representing the Seagrave company, presented a bid and specifications for a 75-foot Seagrave aerial ladder truck with water tower and all attachments complete for $4,650, f. o. b., Colorado Springs.

Messrs. Francis and Pearse addressed the council, setting forth the superiority of the trucks made by their respective houses. On motion of Alderman Verner the entire matter was referred to the fire committee to investigate and report back to the council at the next meeting. It is understood that the competitors will meet the fire committee today to present the merits of their respective apparatus.

ORCHARD CONFESSION REVEALS CONDITIONS NEVER EQUALED IN THIS COUNTRY

ple Creek and Telluride districts in this state which have been shrouded in mystery, the earlier Coeur D'Alene murders and the more recent Steunenberg assassination, form a chain of crimes with which efforts are being made to connect the officers of the Western Federation of Miners on a confession said to have been made by Harry Orchard, who is charged with the Steunenberg murder. This confession, it is asserted, disclosed a plot to kill former Governor James H. Peabody of Colorado, William H. Gabbert, chief justice of the Colorado supreme court, and John Campbell, former chief justice.

Orchard is said to have confessed that wholesale assassinations were planned at the headquarters of the Western Federation of Miners in Denver, chiefly by refugees from the camps at Cripple Creek and Telluride. It is also said that Orchard's confession gives a history of the explosion at the Independence depot near Cripple Creek on June 6, 1904, which killed 14 men and injured many others.

Governor McDonald, who issued the necessary papers for the extradition of the Federation officers to Idaho, said today that he had read a copy of Orchard's confession, but was not at liberty to divulge its contents.

James McParland, head of a detective agency which was employed by the Idaho authorities in the Steunenberg case, declared today that the evidence against all the men who have so far been arrested is very strong and that more arrests are yet to be made. He would not state the nature of his evidence nor how it was obtained.

"The operations of the Molly Maguires in Pennsylvania," said Mr. McParland, "whom I ran to earth and disrupted, were children's play compared with the work of the Moyer-Haywood crowd. They have existed for eighteen years, but their days are numbered."

Vincent St. John, who was arrested in Burke, Idaho, last night, was president of the miners union at Telluride, Colo., at the time of the assassination of Arthur Collins, superintendent of the Smuggler-Union mine in that camp. He was arrested and charged with complicity in that murder, but was never brought to trial.

It developed that Orchard's confession, according to the best authority, stated that bombs had been placed in the gateways of the residences of two members of the Colorado supreme court and that more than a dozen attempts had been made to assassinate former Governor James H. Peabody. An investigation since the alleged confession was made disclosed the presence of bombs in exactly the spots indicated. The man who unearthed the bombs a prominent member of the Colorado National guard—is now in Idaho, having accompanied the party that returned with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. He will appear as a witness in the Orchard trial, it is said, to prove the truth of the alleged confession.

Information reached here tonight from Cripple Creek, Colo., that Ed Green, a federation man, had been arrested on a warrant forwarded by Idaho authorities charging him with connection with the Steunenberg assassination. Two other warrants are in the hands of Cripple Creek officers for service.

THE W. F. M. CONSPIRACY.

IN SAYING a few words yesterday about the arrest of Moyer and Haywood, we expressed the hope that some real evidence had been secured which would connect them with a series of crimes for which to all appearances members of their organization have been directly responsible. For its influence on public opinion, it would be better to let them alone than fail to make out a case against them. It is now alleged positively that the man Orchard, alias Hogan, has made a full confession, and has corroborated his evidence by indicating where certain explosives were stored in Denver, which have been found at the places he designated.

If this story is true, there was a widespread conspiracy to "do up" all the prominent men who were responsible for the defeat of the Western Federation in this state two years ago. The Chief Justice and another justice of the Supreme Court, former Governor Peabody and Adjutant-General Sherman Bell, and others are said to have been marked for removal. If there is evidence to prove this, it will show the Western Federation, or its "inner circle," to be one of the most dangerous and one of the vilest organizations that ever existed.

Moyer and Haywood and their kind profess to be Socialists; but they are really Anarchists first—it is necessary to have a period of anarchy before the regime of Socialism can be inaugurated. If there is a conspiracy like that alleged, it is to be hoped that at last it will be run down successfully, and the whole truth ascertained.

TWO NEW GOVERNMENTS.

BY AN UNUSUAL coincidence, France and England have both inaugurated new governments in the past two days. Sunday President Loubet of France yielded his office to the newly-elected President Fallieres; yesterday King Edward opened the new Parliament.

Not many changes are expected from the new regime in France—if one may use the word regime in connection with it. The President of France is little more than a figurehead, and it is only by the use of tact and good judgment that he preserves his dignity as the nominal head of a great nation. He can not select his own cabinet, and there are so many and such fluctuating parties in the national legislature that he may have a dozen or two different ministries before his term is ended. M. Fallieres is not expected to change the policy of the government. He seems to be all in such a man as M. Loubet—one of the "safe and sane" kind. Of bourgeois ancestry and training, he is very democratic in his tastes and is already a popular favorite.

In England, while the machinery of government goes on without a jolt, there has been something little short of a political revolution. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman takes the reins backed by an apparent majority larger than any seen in the House for half a century. Even without counting his labor allies, who perhaps may not always be depended on for party measures, and not counting his Irish allies, who are also at times uncertain—he has a clear majority of the House consisting of professed Liberals. The Opposition is likely to have not much more than one-third of the House.

The ministry which "C. B." has succeeded in forming is a very able one—a sort of "ministry of all the talents," as one of its predecessors was entitled. Mr. John Morley and Mr. James Bryce alone would give distinction to any ministry in a literary way. Mr. Herbert Gladstone is a good deal more than "the son of his father;" while the unique figure is Mr. John Burns, the first labor leader to sit in the cabinet.

The very size of the Liberal majority may tend to make it unwieldy, and to make co-operation difficult on some points. For instance, one of the burning questions in England for the past year—the most burning question by all odds, though we caught only echoes of it in our newspapers—is the sectarian school question. The last ministry undertook to make the taxpayers support not only public schools, but also schools managed under the auspices of the Church of England. The Dissenters, as they are still sometimes called there—as well as the Roman Catholics, regard this as entirely unjust. If Sir Henry undertakes to carry out the policy, he is likely to lose much of his nonconformist support. If he does not, and undertakes to "disestablish" the Church schools, he will arouse bitter opposition among the church element, and especially in the House of Lords.

Some labor legislation may be attempted—in fact, it must be attempted if Sir Henry is to retain the laborites as supporters of his general policy. Some Irish legislation there will be, too, and that always arouses interest and opposition. Notwithstanding his big majority, the Premier has no easy thing.

The House of Commons is a fairly representative body of men. The London Daily News has made an analysis of it by occupations, and finds that there are 166 barristers and thirty-four solicitors; seventy manufacturers and sixty merchants; forty-six retired army officers; twenty-nine newspaper men; ten [illegible] practitioners; ten mining men, and ten brewers; twenty ship owners and builders, and twenty-nine literary men aside from the newspaper men. The Labor men include thirteen ex-pit boys, miners and factory hands, three compositors, four carpenters, three grocers' clerks, two mechanics, two stone masons, two navvies, a newsboy, a blacksmith, and a farm hand. Among representatives of this party who are not themselves laborers, there are nine bankers, eight brokers and twelve farmers. This is certainly a varied list—almost as much so as our own House of Representatives at Washington.

The Parliament will probably be a little slow in getting down to important business—there is not the same cause for haste there that there is in Washington; but in six months' time the Premier will have his hands full.

THE CANTEEN QUESTION.

BEFORE this session of Congress is over, the question of restoring the Army canteen will undoubtedly come up. During the period since it was abolished, careful observations have been made at all the Army posts, and careful reports have been sent in by the commanding officers. So far as we have seen these reports are nearly unanimous in recommending the restoration of the canteen, and that, curiously enough, for the very reason that its abolition was asked for in the first place, its effect on the temperance and good order of the enlisted men.

The preponderating testimony seems to be, that the canteen promoted temperance and good order. Its adherents argue that it provided a club-room for the men, where they might get pure beer and other of the lighter forms of alcoholic refreshment, and meet in a social way; and of course, as the canteen was always under official supervision, disorder and drunkenness there were practically unknown. Since its abolition, small saloons of the lowest character have been established just without the lines of the post, where the drink sold is the vilest kind, where the men meet the worst characters of both sexes, and where the Army discipline cannot be brought to bear. It is charged that the result has been a great increase of drunkenness and disorder, and that this cause has had much to do also with the immense increase in the number of desertions, which has been the cause of anxiety to Army officers for several years past.

The canteen was abolished by the persistence of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which sent representatives to Washington for several sessions, and finally succeeded in getting a majority in Congress to vote for its abolition. Many Congressmen voted for it, as they explained at the time, as an experiment—just to see what the effect would be, and whether the prophecies of the W. C. T. U. as to its beneficial effect would come true. The organization is as strongly opposed to the canteen as ever, and is working to defeat any measure for its restoration. Its success would probably be assured if there had not arisen another organization of women to work for the restoration of the canteen. This organization was started by Army women mainly, who saw for themselves the pernicious effects of the abolition, and who agreed with their husbands that for the sake of discipline and good order it was better to maintain the canteen. These women have many influential adherents, and they will work just as hard for their side as the W. C. T. U. for theirs.

It is an illustration of the influence of women on our modern political life that this question, which one would suppose to be purely administrative, and a matter especially for the Army itself to settle, and for men to decide, should be left so largely to women. The women abolished the canteen; if it is restored, it will be largely the women who have done that. And very few of these women, in either case, have any votes.

Secretary Taft says that few of the cigars made in the Philippines are of high enough grade for export to this country. If this is true it is too bad for the Filipinos that the Democrats didn't win the last election. Democratic rule would make us all poor enough to increase the demand for "two-fers."

The House of Representatives recently passed 429 special pension bills in seventy-two minutes. It would be interesting to know how many of these went through on merit, and how many owed their passage to the desire of certain Representatives to make themselves solid with certain constituents.

Colonel Watterson's prediction that Hearst will control the next Democratic national convention may not be as wide of the mark as it seems today. The convention will not be held for a little more than two years, and the Democracy has frequently gone crazy in less time than that.

It is apparent from the announcement that King Edward works twelve hours a day, that he is what Senator Patterson calls a "poor devil of a slave," because he doesn't work only eight hours and put in the rest of the time loafing.

It would be interesting to know which side of the impending outbreak the newly-organized Chinese army will be on. The chief difference though will be in the size of the indemnity bill China will have to pay.

Mitchell says Dolan is a liar and Dolan says Mitchell is another, and also a coward. There ought to be some money in it for the prize-fight promoter who could bring these husky miners together in a twenty-four-foot ring.

While we are getting so frightened in this country over the dangers of an anti-foreign uprising in China, perhaps John Chinaman is just a little scared when he thinks about those [illegible] American troops en route to the Philippines.

It is fortunate that Rookwood, the Cincinnati home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, is a very large structure; otherwise it might be necessary to build an addition in which to store the wedding presents.

If Count Boni and his poor relations are wise they will lay in a supply of coal and provisions now, while the money lasts.

LIEUT. PIKE'S DIARY

For One Hundred Years Ago Today.

Thursday, 20th February, 1806. I allowed my men to march at least three hours before me, notwithstanding which, as it was cold and the road good, my sledge dog brought me ahead of all by one o'clock. Halted for my company at half past two o'clock. Our courses this day were first south east six miles, then south [illegible] miles, almost all the day over lakes, some of which were six miles across. Encamped at the back of Sandy lake, the Indians were out hunting.

SEEING AMERICA FIRST.

Should you see America first?

A conference at Salt Lake City is trying to persuade you that you should, and the New York Evening Post admits that the people of the eastern states need to think the matter over. It confesses that, as compared with the people of the West, they are ignorant of their own country and deservedly called provincial.

At the same time it compares attractions not altogether to the advantage of America. As against the glories of our national scenery, there are the historic glories of European cities and no novelty that we can offer is quite as striking as the novelty presented by the many strange sights of a foreign land. Then when the eastern American comes to figure on the very important item of expense he discovers that he can do better as regards both hotels and transportation in a trip to Europe than he can on a trip to the Pacific coast. The conclusion is that conferences to promote travel in this country can accomplish very little until the fares are lower and the hotels better and cheaper.

This eastern view is interesting and practical enough to merit attention from the conference, the hotel men and the railroads. We may add, however, that there can be no doubt as to the desirability of home travel. It is not only because we have such unsurpassed natural attractions as the Yellowstone, the Grand Canon and the Yosemite, but most of all because the trip across the continent helps so much to a true realization of what the nation is. Residents along the eastern coast who do their traveling abroad have no just conception of its extent or of the remarkable unity of its people. They are, in fact, ridiculously provincial, and the type is fairly represented by a young woman from Hartford, Conn., who on finding herself at the town of Fulton, N. Y., exclaimed to her sister: "Just think how far west we are."

Such Americans would increase the misinformation of the inquisitive foreigner to an alarming degree. They are almost on a par with the Englishman who would make a town out of the state of Alabama and place it somewhere in North Dakota. But, of course, travel is not likely to be regarded primarily as a question of patriotic duty. With many the trip to Europe is the cherished dream of years, and there can be no substitute for it.—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE DUTY ON ART.

Congress ought to pass a free art bill at this session and remove an artificial and senseless barrier from the path of national educational and artistic progress. The art duty is an anti-art duty, a tax on knowledge and culture, a gratuitous and reactionary obstacle to popular appreciation and enjoyment of beauty and skill in various forms.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Is congress corrupt?—The World.

Is life insurance all honest? Is Senator Burton a patriot and Senator Depew a philanthropist? Is Chairman Cortelyou conscientious? Are the railroads represented at Washington? Would Chairman Babcock refuse $100,000 from a trust if he thought a return of the favor was implied? Was any representative or senator elected by the use of money?—New York Press.

SMOOT BOBS UP AGAIN.

Reed Smoot, a former apostle of the Mormon church, but now a United States senator from Utah, is not lost. There has been some curiosity as to his whereabouts, but it seems that he is still on deck, for the senate committee on privileges and elections has resumed the hearing in his case.

There does not seem to be much danger that he will not occupy the deck for some time to come. On the fourth day of March next he will have been a member of the senate for three years—one-half of his full term.

If the investigation of Mormonism and his right to occupy the seat which he now holds continues at the same rapid pace, a report may be looked for about the time when his term expires.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

CLEAN OUT THE BLACKMAILERS.

That vile nest of blackmailers that hatched out the villainous sheet known as Town Topics has been uncovered and the miserable crew stand before the public in all their hideousness.

The cowardice of men of wealth who permitted themselves to be bled may astonish the multitude, but at least they committed no direct crime. They preferred to put up their money rather than to be annoyed, and as they could afford to pay they are not to be pitied. Rather their weakness is a matter for merriment.

But the blackmailers themselves deserve to the utmost limit the punishment prescribed by law for such unsavory rogues.

It is up to the district attorney of New York to clean out the nest of blackmailers.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

NOT A SUBJECT FOR LEGISLATION.

A bill making it a misdemeanor to fee any waiter, servant or porter connected with any hotel, restaurant, lunch room or public service corporation is to be introduced in the Maryland legislature. The measure is not to be a one-sided statute, however, but will provide punishment alike for him who receives as well as for him who proffers the tip. It can safely be predicted that should such a foolish law be enacted it will remain a dead letter and soon be utterly forgotten. However disagreeable the tipping practice may be to some people—and there is no doubt that it has come to be something of a nuisance—it is certainly not a crime, and the criminal courts can employ their time much more profitably disposing of murderers and highwaymen, of which there is a superabundance, than by wasting it on "tipping" cases.—New Orleans Picayune.

MURDERS BY HIGHWAYMEN.

A surprising feature of the Chicago Tribune's compilation of criminal statistics this year is the great increase which it shows in murders committed by highwaymen. While the total of deaths by violence increased from 8,484 in 1904 to 9,212 in 1905, or by less than one-tenth, the murders of this class went up from 464 to 582, which is an increase of practically one-fourth. It is a phenomenon which, on its face, is rather hard to account for. Other things being equal, crimes of this sort ought, seemingly, to decrease with every increase of population. At the same time, as has been shown by enumeration this year, the net increase of population has been accompanied in many of our states by an actual loss of population over large tracts of country. Thus the area of sparse population, and therefore of favorable opportunities for the "road agent," is growing larger. That this alone would account for such an increase as the statistics show is hardly possible, however, especially since a large portion of the hold-ups undoubtedly occur in the outlying parts of cities. Some sociologist should find a congenial task in working out the underlying causes.—New York Evening Post.

Queen Margherita to Visit the U. S.

Mother of Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, to Tour This Country in an Auto.

MARGHERITA, the queen mother of Italy, is going to make a tour of the United States. It has not yet been decided on exactly what date she will start but it will probably be next spring. She intends to "do" America in a motor car and to avoid the fuss and ceremony with which she was thoroughly satiated during the long years she shared Italy's throne with King Humbert, she will travel incognito. She will assume the title of countess of Stupinigi, taking the name from her castle of Stupinigi, which is her favorite summer residence.

QUEEN MARGHERITA, Who Will Tour the United States in an Automobile.

Since she took to "motoring" Rome has seen little of her, as she has devoted herself to exploring most of the countries of Europe. And now the restless dowager queen yearns for the novel experiences and larger freedom to be found in the new world. She is especially anxious to see something of the wild west. The other day, speaking to an American of her desire to visit the United States, she said innocently, "I want particularly to go west, as I know Bret Harte's sketches well, and I should like to meet some of his types." One wonders what would happen if the good queen, who is graciousness itself, but an aristocrat to her finger tips, should suddenly appear in a mining camp in Nevada. But this is the spirit in which she is planning her trip.

Queen Margherita is not by any means a novice at motor traveling. She knows what it is to have a breakdown in the country miles from help, to have collisions, to be stoned, and to be lost for hours without food, but the more adventures she has the more her appetite for them increases; thus her fixed intention to explore outside Europe. American women have always had a powerful attraction for Queen Margherita, their delicate, fair type of beauty appealing powerfully to her, and their frankness and self-possession introducing a fresh element in the monotony of her "circles," as the royal presentations are called. In the queen's youth Mrs. Marsh, wife of the American minister to Piedmont, was greatly admired by her and exercised considerable influence on the princess' education through her German governess, who came to Mrs. Marsh for advice. Ever since then Queen Margherita has had a high regard for Americans, which several pretty severe shocks have not served to diminish.

Strenuous Introduction to Sport.

Strangely enough, the queen mother used to be much prejudiced against motor cars, and would not hear of entering one, it is said, because she considered them so ugly and dangerous. One day, however, she allowed herself to be persuaded to take a spin with her son, King Victor; but alas! the brake refused to work, and they negotiated a hill at a pace which made Queen Margherita's hair stand on end, and, worse still, they ran over a dog, but with it all the royal lady felt that she had at last found a cure for her maladies melancholy and restlessness. The first time King Humbert's life was attempted in her presence, the shock so affected her nerves that the doctors were seriously alarmed, although the public in general was unaware of the fact. Her nervousness took the form of extreme and acute restlessness, which would not allow her any repose. Motor cars were then unknown, so she was taken to Nice, accompanied by a most accomplished musician, whose duty and delight it was to play to her for hours. Under this treatment, which was very slow, she quite recovered, never having a touch of it again until her husband was assassinated. Since then the old restlessness has returned, but now she has her automobile, and when flying—even at the moderate pace she adopts—is tranquil and happy. "It is only thus," she said lately to an intimate, "that the vision of my husband as they brought him home to me dead leaves me. When in my dear motor car I am a normal woman."

Queen Margherita's most serious adventure took place in the wilds of Norway. She had been warned not to go to a certain district, as the inhabitants were grossly ignorant, superstitious and ferocious, but the accounts of the scenery were such that she could not resist the temptation and she decided to go, taking a Norwegian interpreter. All went well until one evening a tire burst just at the outskirts of a small village. They decided to explore while the damage was being repaired, going on to a larger town for supper and to sleep. As the party stood up with the intention of descending, from the crowd which had gathered, muttering and menacing, there advanced a giant Norwegian, brandishing a club almost as big as himself and shouting what were evidently threats.

The interpreter gallantly stepped forward and explained that the lady with the golden hair was a queen, and merely asked to go through the village to the town on the other side. "Queen!" snorted the other—"Queen of death, who goes about with a chariot with a devil in it!" At this most inopportune moment the automobile began to throb in the most alarming way, but the giant stood his ground, although the mob took to their heels. "I am not afraid of your magic," he declared, with a white face, "and if any one of you come an inch further I will brain you as you stand!" his words being emphasized by a shower of stones from behind the trees, the villagers having regained enough courage to come so far. Queen Margherita, fearing for the safety of her automobile, gave way to the importunities of her companions and ordered a retreat, which was in perfect order, although some dodging was done to avoid the stones which were hurled after them.

Not Disconcerted by Mishaps.

Another adventure was more agreeable and took place in Italy. One day, with her chauffeur and a lady and gentleman-in-waiting, she started early after lunch, intending to return for afternoon tea. Four and 5 o'clock passed with no sign of her, and at last anxiety in the palace grew so great that it was decided to make a search for the party. Then followed a wild confusion of ringing of telephones, trampling of flying horses, dispatch of servants, carabineers and police agents in every direction. Nothing was heard of the lost automobile until a carabineer about 8 p.m. came upon a car which he thought he knew, in a tiny village, and which investigation showed to be the one he was in search of. A little further on he found a small inn, and looking through the vines into the garden he saw her majesty and the others seated tranquilly at a table having an al fresco meal, which appeared to be much to their taste, while the excited peasant landlady hovered in the background, her knees showing an inclination to bend every time the queen looked at her. It seems that the car had broken down some distance from the village, and could not be mended quickly with the means at hand. Telephones were unknown there, so the party had philosophically made the best of it, Queen Margherita exclaiming when she left, "I never dreamed how good polenta cakes could be!" They all arrived at the palace about midnight.

On another occasion the queen mother was motoring in a country district, when suddenly an automobile going at a tremendous pace touched the royal automobile in passing. They all stopped when a man jumped up in the other car and demanded, "Why do you not get out of the queen's way?" "The queen's way," repeated the gentleman-in-waiting, stupefied. "Yes," interrupted the other; "this is Queen Margherita's automobile, and that," lowering his voice and pointing to a begoggled figure, "is the queen mother herself." Queen Margherita, indignant, arose and removed her goggles, whereupon the impudent chauffeur, recognizing her, put on full speed, and the motor, an exact copy of the queen mother's, was lost to sight in a flash. Inquiries were made, but its occupants were never found, having probably taken fright and crossed the frontier at once.

Preparations for Tour.

The arrangements for her American tour are causing the queen mother some trouble because of her desire to make every lady concerned in it happy. There is that dreadful ocean to cross, and her favorite lady-in-waiting is no longer young and has a dire dread of the sea. If the queen leaves her behind her trip will be marred; if she takes the lady with her there will be wailing if not gnashing of teeth, as besides entertaining exaggerated notions of the ocean's terrors the good woman believes that the west is peopled exclusively by lawless desperadoes and scalp-hunting Indians. For the trip the queen has acquired a new Fiat automobile of 60-horsepower from the world-famed Italian firm. That it will be equipped in the most luxurious style goes without saying. It will accommodate six people. The queen will take with her a gentleman and lady-in-waiting, her maid and an expert Italian chauffeur, who is now taking lessons in English, which the queen, by the way, speaks perfectly. There will be a vacant seat for an occasional guest.

It was in 1868 that Princess Margherita Marie Therese Jeanne of Savoy, daughter of Duke Ferdinand of Genoa, wedded her cousin, Prince Humbert. She had been married only two years when she was called upon to take up the difficult position of wife to the heir apparent of the kingdom of united Italy at a time when the unity consisted chiefly in a name. No bed of roses awaited Humbert when he came to the throne, and few queens have had a larger share of trouble than Margherita. But in the same degree that the heroism and self-oblivion of King Humbert during the fearful cholera year at Naples helped indirectly to establish his dynasty on the throne, even more than did his gallantry on the field, so did the devotion the queen displayed in those dark days in visiting the hospitals and tending the suffering win her a warm place in the hearts of the Italian people, which she has ever since held. She has well earned the release from the cares of state which she has enjoyed since her son became King Victor Emmanuel III.

Relations With Her Son.

They are on the best of terms, but in the first days of his reign the young king made it apparent that in affairs of state his masterful will was paramount and even his mother would have to give way to it. She wanted the body of her martyred husband buried in Turin, the reason she assigned being that there the other members of the race had been buried, and that he ought to lie among his kin. There was, as she knew, one exception to this rule. The body of Victor Emmanuel, the founder of the present united Italy, had been laid at rest in the Pantheon—that is to say, in Rome—that beautiful prize which he had won from the papacy, and which the papacy still hopes to win back. It was her desire not to offend the church which strengthened the wish of the queen mother. But her son insisted that his father should be buried in the same tomb in the same city.

Queen Margherita was in her boudoir at Monza when the duke of Aosta, at that time heir to the throne (as Victor Emmanuel III then had no son), when the king, pale and tired, entered the room. "Well, it is arranged," he exclaimed; "my father will have a fitting burial in the Pantheon." "Victor," cried his mother, "I see you want to break my heart. You offend my religion as well as my affections." "I am sorry, mother," he said gently, and then he added sternly, "The religion which is offended at a martyr being buried in his own capital and lying beside his own father needs radical changes."

The king had his own way, and everybody is now agreed it was the best way, and there have been no conflicts between them since. Out of his own civil list of $3,000,000 yearly the king makes his mother an annual allowance of $400,000. She can well afford, therefore, to enjoy life in her own way. She is a woman of many accomplishments, extremely well read and a good conversationalist, and is particularly fond of people of literary and artistic talents. Under an assumed name she has written a drama which is shortly to be produced at Rome.—Rome correspondence Springfield Republican.

"JACK THE STABBER"

ST. LOUIS CRIMINAL WORKED IN THIS CITY LAST SUMMER AS A STABLE EMPLOYE.

John Brady, alias Fred Sulkey, also known as "Jack the Stabber," a degenerate who has been causing the police of St. Louis so much trouble by the indiscriminate stabbing and cutting of young women, is known in this city as Frank Wilson. The description sent out by the St. Louis police of the man now under arrest there is as follows: Age 22, height, 5 feet 5½ inches, weight 132 pounds, slender build, dark chestnut hair, index finger on right hand amputated at first joint.

Undersheriff George Dayton recognized the description as that of a man who was employed at the Antlers livery during July, August, September and October, and who left this city the latter part of October, 1905, for Hot Springs, Ark. "Frank Wilson had the reputation of being one of the best six-horse drivers in the country," said Undersheriff Dayton yesterday. "In checking him up for the St. Louis authorities I find that he took most of his meals at the New York restaurant and roomed at 22 East Huerfano street."

A. L. Patton, when shown a photograph of Brady, immediately recognized it is that of Frank Wilson. "While Wilson was employed at the Antlers livery," said Mr. Patton last evening, "I frequently cashed his pay check for him. He was a regular customer and I am positive that it is the same man as that under arrest by the St. Louis police." The waiters and cook at the New York restaurant also identified the picture of John Brady as being that of Frank Wilson.

COAL INTERESTS

H. C. HARMON OF THIS CITY HAS BEEN CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF NEW STATE ORGANIZATION.

H. C. Harmon of Colorado Springs, president of the Colorado Springs Fuel company, has been elected president of the Rocky Mountain Coal Men's association, which held its first meeting in Denver Saturday night.

The new organization which has placed Mr. Harmon at its head is composed of Colorado coal operators and dealers, wholesale and retail. Its cardinal object is the furtherance of all plans which will conduce to the best interests of the members. Over 300 members were present at the Denver meeting.

Among the benefits for which the association will strive are reasonable freight rates, more liberal demurrage terms, prompter shipments, elimination of shortage in weights at destination, better protection of coal shipments en route, a more liberal supply of cars for coal shipments and combined efforts for summer storage rates. The association will be affiliated with the international organization.

Mr. Harmon is one of the best-known coal men in the state. Besides being president of the Colorado Springs Fuel company, he is president of the Iron City Fuel company of Pueblo. For many years he has been connected with the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, and probably no other man in the state has a more thorough knowledge of this particular line of business than has Mr. Harmon.

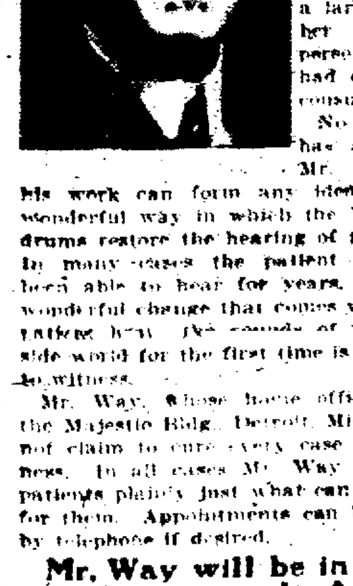

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF SPEED ORDINANCE

Complaints of violations of the speed ordinance have resulted in Police Chief Alex Adams giving orders to all patrolmen to enforce the rules strictly in regard to automobiles and motor cycles, and to arrest all persons found riding faster than allowed by law.

C. A. Baldwin will appear in the police court this morning upon complaint of Patrolman Melin, charged with fast riding on the west side Sunday afternoon. F. W. Davis will also appear before the court to answer to a charge of riding a motor cycle in the north end yesterday in violation of the speed ordinance. C. C. Cullen was convicted yesterday of riding a motor cycle too fast and also with failing to procure a license. He was fined $10 and costs.

HE MAKES THE DEAF TO HEAR

Remarkable Scenes at the Antlers Hotel in the Office of Mr. Geo. P. Way, Inventor of the Way Ear [illegible]

A representative of The Gazette called on Mr. Way yesterday at the Antlers hotel and found him busily engaged in examining and advising with a large number of deaf persons who had called to consult him. No one who has not seen Mr. Way at his work can form any idea of the wonderful way in which the Way ear drums restore the hearing of the deaf. In many cases the patient has not been able to hear for years, and the wonderful change that comes when the patient hears the sounds of the outside world for the first time is thrilling to witness.

Mr. Way, whose home office is in the Majestic Bldg., Detroit, Mich., does not claim to cure every case of deafness. In all cases Mr. Way tells his patients plainly just what can be done for them. Appointments can be made by telephone if desired.

Mr. Way will be in Colorado Springs, at the Antlers Hotel, Feb. 19 to 21 inclusive. All who are deaf should be sure to call on him, as it will cost nothing to learn whether he can help you or not.

READY TO SUFFER

EIGHT COLLEGE STUDENTS OFFER CUTICLE IN ORDER TO SAVE BURNED FOOT OF SMALL BOY.

That the milk of human kindness flows freely in Colorado Springs has been proved by the number of applications received by Dr. D. H. Rice from persons willing to sacrifice twelve inches of skin to be grafted on the injured left foot of Albert Helmer of 226 South Weber street, who was severely burned two weeks ago after jumping into an ashpit full of live coals for a baseball.

After Dr. Rice's statement of facts in The Gazette yesterday morning, he received applications of ten persons willing to undergo an operation in order that young Helmer might not become a life cripple. Of the ten who volunteered, eight are students at Colorado college.

On acount of the condition of the lad's left foot, the doctor has decided that it would be unwise to undertake the skin-grafting operation at present and no selection was made from the applicants.

The right foot, which was saved by a skin-grafting operation last week, is now almost well, the operation having been entirely successful.

JO DANDY TO SHIP 100 TONS A DAY

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—James Wright, owner of the Jo Dandy mine on Raven hill, has a very large tonnage of pay ore in sight and intends to ship 100 tons a day for the next three months. Much of the ore is already blocked out so that the big output can be maintained without delay. The mineral will be taken from the first, second and third levels.

GOOD FINDS ON AMERICAN EAGLES

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—A first-class strike is reported on the American Eagles by Dobbins and company, who are subleasing from Cox and Durbin, in the territory of the big winze workings where W. S. Stratton mined a large tonnage of excellent ore. The leasers have driven north on the vein from the 800-foot level and shown that it is five feet wide. The ore also carries free gold and sylvanite. Two trial shipments of ten tons each gave average returns better than three ounces per ton.

Johnson and company, leasing on the American Eagles, on Bull hill, at a depth of 500 feet, have opened a high-grade streak which assays $12,000 per ton. The mineral is sacked for shipment. It seems that the vein will hold out and probably will develop a large shoot after exploratory work has been carried forward under plans now outlined.

GOOD MINERAL ON BLOCK 18 OF AJAX

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—The Victor Consolidated Gold Mining company, which has leased block No. 18 of the Ajax territory, is installing an electric hoist preparatory to starting development. The showing at the third level is good, a streak ten inches wide returning $36 per ton. This will be explored first and probably the shaft will be sunk another 100 feet. Practical work is in charge of Charles Preutiss, a well-known local mining man.

CHRISTMAS MAY BECOME BIG SHIPPER

NEW ORE SHOOT HAS BEEN EXPOSED AT A DEPTH OF SIX HUNDRED FEET.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—There is good reason to believe that the Christmas mine on Bull hill will, within a comparatively short time, enter the list of heavy shippers. The working shaft is 600 feet deep, from which point a drift has been driven, and exposed an ore shoot four feet wide which gives values from $60 to $200 per ton. The overhand stoping to a depth of 350 feet reveals the vein as wide and as valuable as where first encountered. The costly underhand development will be stopped while the shaft is being put down 125 feet, after which a crosscut will be driven about 75 feet to intersect the vein when overhand stoping is to be started. The shaft work is now down 36 feet below the 600-foot level and is in ore seven feet wide that averages from $12 to $18 per ton. It is known there is a strong body of ore at a depth of 800 and 900 feet in the Christmas 14 to 20 feet wide that will ship at $[illegible] per ton. The vein has been developed in an adjoining mine and has been followed to the Christmas lines.

PORTLAND AFTER RICH ORE SHOOT

COMPANY DRIFTING TO INTERSECT NEW VEIN AT DEPTH. ANOTHER SHAFT PLANNED.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—The recent rich find on the Portland, when the long-lost Anna Lee vein was recovered at a depth of 300 feet, has caused the company to start a drift at the 400-foot level to intersect the vein at the greater depth. Two shifts are driving at present, but it is the purpose to put a third shift on so that the work of reaching the vein may be done in good time.

The Portland company has for some time been figuring on sinking a fifth main working shaft, which will be located at the extreme northeast end of their ground. It is understood that the company has concluded to begin work at once. The new shaft will be 1,000 feet deep, 400 feet of which will be sunk from the surface. Raises will be driven from lower levels to secure the 1,000 feet. The company has prospected the territory considerably for a long time, and it is known that several large and satisfactory ore bodies have been found there.

PORTLAND ORE MAY EXTEND TO FIVE POINTS

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—A reason for the leasing of the Five Points claim by the Last Dollar Gold Mining company is said to be due to the fact that the Portland company found one of the largest ore shoots that has been uncovered for the last two years and that there is strong possibility that the vein lies within the Five Points instead of in the Portland ground.

SILVER TIP SCENE OF RICH STRIKE

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Feb. 19.—A. C. Morrison and company, leasing on the Silver Tip, near Altman, have opened a strong body of ore from five to six feet wide at a depth of 90 feet, which gives values of $25 per ton. Four cars of the $25 rock have been shipped and one car of screenings which ran better than $50 per ton. An electric hoist has been installed and machines will be started today. Air is supplied from the Logan mine for the machines. On March 1 sinking is to be begun, the intention being to put the shaft to a depth of 500 feet.

COLORADO CITY

MAY BOND CITY TO BUILD ELECTRIC LIGHTING PLANT

The city council met last night in regular session with all councilmen present except Cosgrove and Kaysbier.

A petition signed by a large number of citizens was read, asking the council to call a special election for the purpose of bonding the city for a sum sufficient to build an electric light plant. After considerable discussion it was referred to a special committee of five, including the mayor. Mayor John F. Murray appointed Messrs. Hinkson, Cosgrove, Kaysbier and Corporan as the committee, with instructions to investigate the cost of an electric light plant together with the cost of constructing a sytem throughout the city. A bill of $380.10 was allowed the Wister Plumbing company for work done on Thorndale park.

The report of a special committee was read, recommending that the council donate $100 to the Colorado Springs local Typographical union to aid in entertaining the delegates to the National Typographical union convention which will be held in Colorado Springs in August.

A petition signed by 138 residents of the west side requesting that the license of the Pikes Peak saloon be revoked. The Rev. F. W. Hullinger addressed the council and made a strong plea in behalf of the petition. P. W. Dustin spoke, claiming that the place was run as respectably as any saloon in the city.

A resolution was passed restricting the sale of intoxicating liquors to the south side of Colorado avenue between Fifth and Seventh streets. Licenses were granted for five saloons and seven wholesale liquor houses.

It was decided to pay a reward of $10 for the arrest and conviction of any person maliciously breaking the window lights of vacant buildings.

Mayor Murray advocated the planting of trees on Colorado avenue. The suggestion met with the favor of the councilmen. On motion the matter was referred to the committee on streets and bridges.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead" is coming to town! What would the season be without it? What a train of thought the name "The Old Homestead" seems to set ageing! For to many of us the present generation our first experience at the theater was in witnessing "The Old Homestead." We were taken to see this charming play in our childhood days because it was known and talked about in church and Sunday school circles as being one of the very few dramas that could be witnessed with perfect safety to the morals of the young. And as the years multiply the old play seems to lose none of the brightness and freshness of the early days. On the contrary, age seems to have mellowed it. Uncle Josh is heartily welcome here and so are all the other friends whom we seem to number among our personal acquaintances—Aunt Matilda, Cy Prime, Seth Perkins, Happy Jack, Rickety Ann, stupid Ed Ganzey, the country fiddlers, and Anna Maria Murdock, the principal. They will all be on hand with all their quaint characteristics, not overlooking also the famous double quartet of farm hands, which will be heard in some new numbers and some of the old favorites. "The Old Homestead" will be seen at the Grand Opera house on next Saturday. Reserved seats on sale Wednesday.

ARINGTON'S COMEDIANS COMING FOR TWO WEEKS.

Arington's comedians, a very strong company of players, have been secured by Manager Nye to play an engagement of two weeks at the Opera house commencing on Tuesday evening, February 27.

The plays will be changed every evening, with two bargain matinees each week. The opening play will be Ed Thorne's celebrated drama "The Black Flag."

The plays will be presented with special scenery and electric effects. New specialties will be presented between the acts. Summer prices will prevail—10, 20, 30 and 50 cents.

MODJESKA AS LADY "MACBETH"

It is with pleasure that Manager Nye announces the appearance of the famous actress, Modjeska. She is making a farewell tour of the principal cities of the country and is being greeted by packed houses. She is supported by an excellent company and the plays are presented with special scenery and electric effects. Modjeska will present here one of her most successful plays, "Lady Macbeth." Reserved seats for this engagement will be placed on sale at the box office Thursday morning.

A NIGHT ALARM

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the brassy cough of croup, which sounds like the children's death knell and it means death unless something is done quickly. Foley's Honey and Tar never fails to give instant relief and quickly cures the worst forms of croup. Mrs. P. L. Cordier, of Mannington, Ky., says: "My three year old girl had a severe case of croup; the doctor said she could not live. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, the first dose gave quick relief and saved her life." Foley's Honey and Tar is best for croup and whooping cough, contains no opiates, and cures quickly. Careful mothers keep it in the house. Refuse substitutes. For sale by the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

CITY HALL NOTES

TORTURED BY ITCHING ECZEMA

Suffered Tremendous Itching Over Whole Body—Scratched Until Bled—Worse at Night, With Soreness and Excruciating Pains—A Western Lady's

WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Last year at this time I suffered with a tremendous itching on my back, which grew worse and worse, until it spread over the whole body, and only my face and hands were free. For four months or so I suffered the torments of the damned, and I had to scratch, scratch, scratch, until I bled. At night when I went to bed things got worse, and I had at times to get up and scratch my body all over, until I was as sore as could be, and until I suffered excruciating pains. I did not know what it was, and resorted to a number of blood purifiers, using at times also Cuticura Soap. They told me then that I was suffering from eczema. Then I made up my mind that I would also use Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent. I used them according to instructions, and very soon indeed I was greatly relieved. I continued until well, and now I am ready to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one who suffers as did your obedient servant. Mrs. Mary Metzger, Sweetwater, Okla., June 28, 1905."

That Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt.

SLIGHT RALLY EXPERIENCED

CERTAIN RAILROAD STOCKS SHOW RENEWED STRENGTH—EARNINGS INCREASING.

MONEY SITUATION CAUSES LESS ANXIETY. MARKET CLOSES FIRM AND ACTIVE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—There was some further contest to sustain prices in the stock market today which proved successful after irregular movements, and was followed by a rally from the low points of last week. There was a renewed show of strength in some of the stocks which are still the subject of rumors of important projects yet to be announced, and there was the announcement of the valuable stock subscription privileges to the proposed issue of Chicago & Northwestern stocks. These proved sustaining factors in the market and helped to check the disposition to liquidate which was running to extremes in the latter part of last week. The action of the money market gave no occasion for fears that an acute condition was immediately imminent, and there was some relaxation from the tension of anxiety on that subject which depressed the stock market last week. The $16,267,000 Chicago & Northwestern stock issue and the action towards the issue of $14,000,000 in Delaware & Hudson convertible bonds showed that the flotation of new capital was not yet completed. But this rate of increase compared with last week's total of nearly $250,000,000 was regarded as a moderating tendency in this process. The preservation of the surplus of the banks disclosed by Saturday's statement in the face of the large capital requirements filled during the week was taken as a hopeful indication of the ability of the money market to meet the strain upon it. The continued yielding of the foreign exchange market also showed a resource still open in that quarter for securing capital to meet requirements in this market.

The weakness of the exchange market encouraged some discussion in speculative circles of an early importation of gold. There was a hopeful sentiment prevalent over the prospects for a settlement of the labor dispute in the anthracite trade. Discounts in London were a shade easier, although this week's stock exchange settlement there was reported to be causing some anxiety. The Imperial Bank of Germany showed a notable improvement in conditions.

The extraordinary rate of expansion in gross earnings of railroads reported for the second week of February was of favorable effect on sentiment. The percentage of increase over the corresponding week of last year in the case of the Canadian Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande reached 42 per cent; Louisville & Nashville, 36 per cent; Missouri Pacific and Central of Georgia, 34 per cent; Iowa Central, Minneapolis & St. Louis, 30 per cent; Southern, 27 per cent; Texas Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas, 25 per cent, and St. Louis Southwestern, 22 per cent. Traffic officials of railroads reported the volume of shipments well maintained and operating conditions not materially impaired by last week's stormy weather. Support of the market was manifest at the opening, but was met by the selling, caused inevitably by last week's drop in prices, and the calls for addition margin which went out in consequence. The support in the market persisted and the arrest of the decline in itself lightened the pressure to sell. An uncovered short interest added to the demand for stocks. Except in a few stocks the strength did not become aggressive and yielded on a number of reactions. The market rallied at the last, however, and closed firm.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,490,000.

United States 3s advanced ¼ per cent on call.

WOOL MARKET.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19.—Wool steady; territory and western mediums, 23@29; fine [illegible]

WHEAT WEAK EARLY IN DAY

NEWS AT OPENING OF THE SESSION FAVORABLE TO THE BEARS.

PRICE RECOVERS LATER—CORN AND OATS ARE FIRM WITH PROVISIONS STEADY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Early in the day sentiment in the wheat pit was bearish and prices were below the close of Saturday. At the opening the May option was unchanged to ⅛ lower at 83⅞@83¾. Commission houses bought during the first few minutes and forced May up to 83⅝@83⅞. A great deal of long wheat came out at this time and the price under general selling dropped sharply to about the opening figure. Early news of the day was generally in favor of the bears, the total shipments for the week being [illegible] bushels against 31,120,000 bushels last week. Cables were easy and weather in the winter wheat section of the United States was good. This encouraged the bears and for May the lowest point of the day was reached at 83⅛. At this point shorts became active buyers and the market in a short time was firm. During the remainder of the session the selling pressure was less strong. Reports from Kansas City and St. Louis of an improved demand encouraged the bulls. The market closed firm with prices at the highest point of the day, final quotations on May being at 83⅝. Primary receipts were 514,000 bushels, compared with 508,000 bushels a year ago.

Notwithstanding the early weakness of wheat, the corn market was firm the entire day. The visible supply statement showed a decrease where an increase had been expected. Cables were steady. Clearances were liberal and the weather in the corn belt unfavorable for the movement of the crop. Throughout the session shorts were active bidders, but offerings were not large. The market closed strong with prices at almost the top notch. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 42⅞ to 42⅞@43, sold up to 43⅝ and closed at 43½@43⅝. Local receipts were 523 cars.

The oats market was firm because of the strength of corn, aided somewhat by a livelier demand for cash oats and covering by shorts. May opened a shade to ⅛ higher at 29½@29⅝ to 29⅝, sold up to 30 and closed at 29⅞@30.

A five-cent advance in the price of live hogs, which induced shorts to buy freely, caused a steady market in provisions. During the day there was considerable profit taking by local holders but all declines were temporary and soon recovered. The close was steady with May pork up 5c at $15.85. Lard was unchanged at $7.82½@$7.85. Ribs were down 2½c at $8.25.

CHILDREN TAKEN CARE OF BY JUVENILE COURT

The hearing of the case involving the care of the Watson and Donal children was had in the juvenile court yesterday before Judge Robert Kerr The father of Marguerite and Matilda Watson expressed a willingness to pay for the care and support of his children He did not want them sent to the State Home for Dependent Children, and urged that they be placed in some institution here where he could see them frequently and where they would receive proper care and training The court entered an order that they be sent to the Day Nursery the father to pay the cost of maintenance

Frederick Donal the son of Mrs Laura V Donal, was given to the custody of G W Doyle an uncle of the woman, upon the understanding that the lad be adopted by him Mr Doyle is a prosperous contractor of Florence, Colo, and will raise the lad as his own son
